HOCKEY WARRIORS OPEN TITLE DEFENSE

Loyola Warriors, defending OSLAA and Coupe du Québec champions, open defense of their titles tomorrow night when they play host to Carleton University Ravens at 8:00 p.m. at Loyola Arena.

No less than 12 members of last year's squad that went 28-5-2 over the season are returning for another year. Leading the returnees is captain Chris Hayes, OSLAA 1st team All Star center and team MVP who finished second in team scoring with 27 goals and 48 assists in 35 games.

Joining Hayes at the center ice spot will be three other veterans, John Hutton, Jim Sunstrum and Sean McDonough, and together with vet Rocky Martin in nets will give Loyola power and experience down the center.

Returning to duty at the portside are Ron Riley and Pat McCool. On the right Jack Surbey and Mike Thomassin will be familiar faces.

Defensively, the Warriors will again be strong with the return of the OSL's two 1st team All Stars, Larry Carrière and Bill Doyle. Carrière had a brief stint with Verdun Maple Leafs while Doyle was out at California Golden Seals' training camp. Ron Clarke, last year's swing man, has captured a regular spot this time around.

Newcomers to crack the lineup are Steve Sly, a 1st team All Star defenceman last year with Brantford Foresters of the outlaw Western Ontario Junior "A" circuit. Steve is a brother of Darryl of the Vancouver Canucks. Glenn Surbey, younger brother of Jack, will be fifth defenceman.

Rockie forwards are Grant Bennett from Laval Saints, Bill Markell from Cornwall Royals, and Nick Haramis from Ottawa 67 "B" 's. Haramis turned down a scholarship offer from Cornell to come to Loyola. Dan Fournier of St. Lambert Lions, a late cut of St. Catharines Black Hawks, will be backup goalie.

Five members of the team at one time toiled in the Quebec Junior "A" Hockey League; Rocky Martin and Bill Markell with Cornwall Royals, Grant Bennett and Ron Riley with Laval Saints, and Pat McCool with Shawinigan Bruins.

Veterans lost through graduation are Mike Lowe (now with Kansas City Blues), Alain Tremblay (now playing in Austria), Dan McCann (Toronto Varsity Blues), John Donnelly (McGill Redmen), Bruce Wickham (Queen's Golden Gaels), Danny O'Connor and John Burns.

Warriors have been on the ice since October 5th, their earliest start yet. Last Friday's annual Maroon & White encounter saw Mike Thomassin and Nick Haramis each score a couple to lead the Whites to an 8-3 win over the Maroon squad. Chris Hayes got two for the losing side.

Carleton are an unknown aggregation which could surprise. Last year's games between the two schools were each won by Loyola, 9-3 and 5-3. In nets for Carleton tomorrow night will be Andy Molino, an ex-Warrior best remembered for his 1-0 shutout of the Varsity Blues in the 1968 CIAU semi-finals.
